Dr. LuVara Renee' Prudhomme is an author of Christian books and teaching guides. She has a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration, a Masters of Education in Adult and Continuing Education and a Doctor of Education in Leadership in Higher Education.

LuVara is a United States Air Force veteran with over 20 years in various positions that included writing curriculum, building training programs, writing policies, directives and operating procedures, and overseeing all base electronic communications.

She answered her call to ministry in 1999 and began to preach, teach bible study, build programs for teens and youth, and facilitate men's and women's conferences. Her "Purity It's A Teen Thing" curriculum was used for Southern Europe's Youth Explosion for thousands of attendees. LuVara also developed an extensive after-school program that targeted children in low-income areas in a suburb of Charleston, SC.

LuVara's passion is to educate Christians so that they will have the knowledge and understanding to develop a lifestyle that is pleasing to God and that will sustain them while they are running their race. She wants to ensure that God's people are not "destroyed for lack of knowledge."

LuVara resides in Atlanta, GA and has one adult daughter.
